

ANTIQUÉ MIRROR

Glass has existed for thousands of years. So has the mirror. Mirrors made of glass are, on the contrary, only a few centuries old. The good quality of mirrors has grown with that of glass. Now flat glass has reached quality levels next to perfection and therefore mirrors, made of glass, are almost perfect too. Now, the image reflected by a mirror is clear, not distorted or altered. Perhaps this perfection has partly subdued the pervasive magic of reflection.

The range of Antique Mirrors from Preedy Glass reflect a time when modern production methods did not exist and random patterns, colours and designs merged to give a unique quality to each piece of mirror produced.
